Restraint and Involuntary Seclusion Report

A description of the steps the program has taken to decrease the use of restraint and involuntary seclusion.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Students are carefully screened prior to admission to reduce the risk of unsafe behavior that would require restraint while in the program.</li> <li>2. Students who are in multiple restraints due to unsafe behavior are reconsidered for appropriateness by the treatment team. In this case, three of the students stabilized and ceased being in regular restraints. The fourth student was discharged and recommended to a higher level of care.</li> <li>2. Staff are continuously trained on non-physical, trauma responsive intervention techniques to avoid the need for restraint in potentially unsafe situations.</li> <li>3. We do not utilize involuntary seclusion as it is inconsistent with our trauma responsive clinical model.</li> </ol>
